

DEEP RIVER LAND TRUST

WHO WE ARE:

The Deep River Land Trust is a non-profit conservation organization that seeks to acquire and protect open-space in the Town of Deep River, Connecticut. Formed in 1976, the Land Trust currently protects over 230 acres of land in Deep River, including freshwater tidal wetlands, upland forest preserves and natural waterways. These protected lands are available for public enjoyment.

OUR CURRENT GOALS:

- The maintenance and improvement of our current open space properties (including public hiking & trail development).
- Providing resources for local property owners to keep them informed on ways to protect and conserve their land including potential tax incentive options.
- To offer more guided hikes and educational programing to the public.
- To develop partnerships with like-minded organizations and businesses within Deep River.

WE NEED YOUR HELP:

- We are currently seeking volunteers to help with trail development. If you like being outdoors, aren't afraid to get a little dirty, and want to enhance the hiking opportunities within Deep River please volunteer today! For more information, please contact: deepriverlandtrust@gmail.com
